Alterations

Why buy a different boat when you can economically alter the one you have?

In our case, when my children grew up, our trawler yacht became internally inadequate. There was never a question of selling her, I simply did some rather major alterations. In her new guise, Dreamworld has continued successfully to sail the world, and her epic voyages are well documented .

OK, so you have an unsuitable vessel, be it power or sail, we can customise it to suit your requirements. Naval architects mostly don't go to sea, thus their creations are often impractical. Ourselves, we DO go deep sea sailing, and thus are familiar with what is needed to keep you and your family safe. The bottom line is, inferior materials and workmanship are unacceptable, and will definitely fail when you least expect it.

We offer a service that will make your vessel practical for your needs, and seaworthy for the type of sailing for which she was designed.
